

Liberal Studies

The choice of math pathway is largely determined by major. This serves as a typical pathway for these majors; however see a Counselor to confirm the best pathway for your major and college or university.

The Math Department offers courses that fulfill AA requirements and transfer to 4-year colleges and universities, including general education courses for non-science majors, and courses (primarily in math) that will fulfill the lower division requirements of students aiming for careers in engineering and science.

In order to facilitate your success, students can receive math tutoring in the following locations:

- STEM Center – LRC first floor LRC-115
- MT2C – LRC fourth floor
- High Tech Center – DSPS students, LRC-110
- Veterans - I102
- STAR – EOPS students, I4-308

The following support programs are also available for students:
